Business and Economics

New course in 2015: two-year Bachelor of International Business

The Faculty of Business and Economics is about to launch an exciting new business degree: the Bachelor of International Business, which will help students’ fast-track their global career.

Commencing in February 2015, this specialist degree is suited to highly-motivated year 12 students who are interested in experiencing the fast-paced environment of global business.

Delivered in a trimester model, the course will develop students’ knowledge and skills and prepare them for the international economic, financial, political, legal, managerial and strategic environment of business.

With an innovative approach to the way the course is delivered, students will be part of a diverse international cohort and will work in smaller, focused groups, reflecting the cross-cultural network of international business.

The degree will also offer students practical opportunities that provide a global perspective, including the option to study abroad or participate in an industry work placement.

The new degree will be taught in a specially-designed city campus at the heart of Melbourne’s business hub.

Law

The new Bachelor of Laws (Honours) degree – available from 1 January 2015

The Monash Faculty of Law has undertaken a major curriculum review of the Bachelor of Laws degree.

Along with all other Australian law schools, we are adjusting our course in response to the needs of the legal profession and to ensure it is aligned with contemporary developments in legal education. The course is also compliant with the AQF qualification requirements.

From 1 January 2015, all new students will be enrolling in the Bachelor of Laws (Honours) degree, which is an AQF level 8. This means that students will be required to undertake a research unit and a commercial law unit, as part of their degree.

Monash Residential Services

Living on Residence
One MRS resident has kindly offered to write about her experiences so far as a first year student.

“Living on campus has been such a positive experience. The Residential Orientation Week was great for making friends and getting to know fellow residents, which made moving out of home a lot easier. There were events both on and off campus, for example, ‘speed-friending’ and a scavenger hunt in Melbourne. On residence, there is a mix of both local and international students. It is interesting to learn about different cultures and languages, and get to know people from all around the world.

There are many social events held throughout the year, for example, weekly suppers and inter-campus sporting events. The provided social spaces are also great for taking a break from your studies to just chill out.

The Residential Support Team is amazing. They are always there for you if you have any concerns, are struggling with any aspect of living on campus or university, or simply just want a chat. The security team is also very helpful and promptly responds to any safety concerns, noise complaints or lockouts.”

Keep watching the website for information regarding accommodation. Applications for 2015 will open 1 October 2014. We encourage prospective students to apply early as places fill up fast. Visit: mrs.monash.edu/oncampus/applications.html.
Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Science

Parkville campus

Open House

Pharmacy Community Open House
Our Faculty of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences at Parkville will hold their ‘Open House’ from 10am – 3pm on Sunday 17 August. Located in the Parkville health and biomedical precinct, the campus is located just minutes from the Melbourne CBD and is ranked number one in the Asia Pacific for pharmacy education.

Discover our courses, tour the facilities, meet staff and students, speak to ground-breaking researchers and join in on the fun, hands-on activities for the entire family. As well as the usual freebies, one lucky visitor will walk away with a ‘get set to study’ prize pack worth over $5000. For more information, visit monash.edu.au/pharm/openhouse or call 03 9903 9594.

Free transport from Ballarat, Bendigo and Shepparton
The Faculty of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences is running free return buses from Ballarat, Bendigo and Shepparton to the ‘Open House’.
