Fiona Connor: Wallworks

Wallworks is the first major solo exhibition in Australia by New Zealand-born, Los Angeles-based artist Fiona Connor. Quoting existing architectural languages in her installations and sculptures, Connor considers how context and display can condition our perception of an object or artwork. Wallworks sees Connor work with the Monash University Collection to playfully upend the conventions of museum display. Recreating the location and installation of a number of artworks that hang in offices, lecture theatres and public spaces across the university’s campuses, Wallworks provides an intimate look at the life of artwork after entering an institutional collection.

Date: 18 July – 20 September 2014
Location: Monash University Museum of Art | MUMA Ground Floor, Building F 900 Dandenong Road Caulfield East, Melbourne, Australia

Medicine, Nursing and Health Sciences

Monash Physiotherapy has been recognised as outstanding by the Physiotherapy Board of Australia, which has reissued accreditation to the University.

In a report for the Physiotherapy Board of Australia, the Monash program received many accolades, being described as outstanding and “the best ever seen”.

“Monash University is to be commended on the quality of their graduate outcomes as evidenced by the excellent Course Experience Questionnaire and Graduate Destination Survey results,” the council members said. “This was confirmed by clinical partners who indicated they were the graduates of choice due to their professionalism, knowledge, skills, initiative, and reflective practice which leads them to be inquiring learners.”

The department is exceedingly proud of its curriculum, students, graduates and staff, as well as the relationships they have established with clinical partners who contribute to shaping the physiotherapists of the future.
